DANIEL LOGAN, Editor.

WEDNESDAY, NOV. 27, 1895.

STILL OBDDURATE.

With strange obdduracy the Advertiser, in the face of the declared policy of the Executive, urges the continued detention of the political prisoners. There is neither reason nor sense in its arguments. The Russian Government is not winning any loyalty by its harsh treatment of political prisoners. When men engage in a revolutionary movement the knowledge that others who have done likewise were slain or suffered long imprisonment does not deter them. They stake their lives and liberties on the issue, and, although if they fail they are liable to forfeit both, yet the stronger the Government is that suppresses them the more it can afford to be magnanimous. If the uprising for which these prisoners are suffering had been formidable enough to leave the Government crippled in victory, so that its ability to withstand another attack should be doubtful, then it would be justified in the utmost severity against its beaten enemies. There is not one of those eleven men whom the Executive is disposed to release, it is safe to say, but whose promise not to oppose the Republic may be as implicitly relied upon as if they pledged their lives to that effect.

OBSERVATIONS.

Sugar raising on these islands may now be said to have reached a high scientific plane.

It is the opinion of leading planters that their annual convention this week was one of the most profitable one held for years.

President Dole's firm intimation to the Council of State that he had made up his mind against the banishment of any of the political prisoners recommended for deliverance is to be admired. He will certainly lose no friends for such a positive display of kindly consideration for both the prisoners and their families.

Mr. Boyd's report on the Kula homesteads is very gratifying. It is to be hoped that the proportion of native Hawaiians among homesteaders on the different islands will largely increase. Its homestead policy bids fair to be one of the highest successes of the Government.

Forest conservation and cultivation have come to assume great importance in the eyes of the promoters of the country's leading industries. The Government of Hawaii has for many years been intelligently fostering the increase of forest wealth, and with results that are very gratifying. Further action in this direction should include efforts to restock the country with the fine cabinet-wood trees that have become scarce and dear. Woods suitable for building purposes which might grow here ought also to be sought.

When they found they could not get loose on the country, the twenty-six imprisoned Chinese accepted contracts to labor on the terms they had spurned on landing. To procure leave to toil for wages they disposed of all the talk about false pretenses employed to recruit them in Hongkong, by voluntarily declaring that they had perjured themselves in the District Court. That in this they told the truth is evident from their refusal to accept a free passage back to Hongkong. As usual, the BULLETIN took the correct view of the case at the outset, and its critics are covered with confusion.

THE SUGAR PLANTERS.

Conclude Their Annual Session Yesterday Afternoon.

Under the new organization reported yesterday F. M. Swanzy, as president of the Hawaiian Sugar Planters' Association, took the chair at the afternoon session of the sugar planters' annual meeting yesterday.

Commissioner Marsden presented a report on Forestry, the reading of which was loudly applauded by the members. It will be printed at length.

Professor Maxwell read a report on the re-fermentation of sugar and in addition gave an account of his trip through Hawaii. He deplored the destruction of the forests on that island, which by decreasing the annual rainfall threatened the sugar plantations.

As a result of the discussion which ensued on Commissioner Marsden's report committees will be appointed to report at the next meeting on the condition of the forests in the several districts.

In adjourning the session sine die president Swanzy thanked the members for their attendance at the meeting and hoped that much benefit would ensue from the interchange of ideas had during the session.

King Oscar of Sweden once passed through a little town, which was festively decorated for the occasion. Among the rest, a huge transparency, affixed to a gloomy-looking edifice, attracted his attention. It bore the inscription, "Welcome to Your Majesty" in gigantic letters. "What building is that?" the King inquired. "That is the County Prison, your majesty," replied one of the Aldermen. The King laughed and was heard to observe: "Isn't that carrying hospitality a little too far?"—Tit-Bits.

SCORES OF SETTLERS.

In and Below the Corn Belt of Haleakala, Maui.

James H. Boyd, clerk of the Land Office, returned by the steamer Claudine from a visit to the homesteads in Kula, Maui. He reports everything looking well in the settlement, and the homesteading a great success. There is an area of about 1500 acres in that district which was set apart for homesteads. Eighty-seven out of ninety-six lots have been taken up by settlers, leaving only seven homesteads unoccupied. The lots range in size from six to twenty-two acres.

Most of the lots are situated in what is known as the corn belt on the slopes of Haleakala mountain. Lots below the belt are suitable for hog raising and pasturage. The Honolulu market gets a great proportion of its supply of hogs from these homesteads. In the corn belt corn and other products of the temperate zone flourish. Maui potatoes come from thence in hundreds of bags by almost every steamer.

Mr. Boyd in his report to the Land Agent speaks in terms of great praise of the industry and thrift of the settlers. They have fulfilled to the letter the conditions of occupation prescribed by the Government, and that in the face of very great disadvantages. The roads leading to the lots were bad to the degree, sometimes, of being impassable for loads, and in some cases the settlers had no roads at all to their holdings. They have without exception enclosed their lots with stone walls or wire fencing, and the cottages they have built are neat and comfortable in appearance.

Of the eighty-seven homesteaders in Kula, 49 are Portuguese, 32 Hawaiians and 6 Chinese. Mr. Boyd highly praises the native settlers for their industry and thrift.

The settlement is twenty to twenty-five miles from Kahului, and the route all the way is up grade.

ADDRESSED TO THE YOUNG

MAN WHO WANTS A TANDEM.

Young man, you will do well to wait until you see the Tribune Tandems, which will be the finest manufactured, embodying all the latest improvements up to 1896. Don't be deceived into buying a lot of Stearns' "Yellow Fellows" that are back numbers and were manufactured in 1894 and sold on the western shores in 1895 as up to date, when they are not. We have reason to believe and are so informed by reliable San Francisco agents that the "Stearns" wheels that have been imported and placed on sale here are not of the latest pattern, and hence caution would-be purchasers to look out for themselves and not be deceived into buying an antiquated wheel.

One of the largest dealers in bicycles in the United States furnishes us with the following information in regard to the "Stearns" wheel for publication:

"This is a wheel that, owing to the nice finish and the fact that they were the first to get out an adjustable handle bar, took quite a spurt, but we have known of many cases where they have not given satisfaction. The writer in October, 1894, bought a "Stearns" wheel that was badly out of order in December. He sold it to a friend of his and it has been the cause of complaint constantly since. At the same time two "Stearns" ladies' wheels were purchased, and they have been a source of expense and annoyance ever since, until the two ladies owning them sold them at a sacrifice and bought Tribunes, and they claim that the Tribune wheel is far superior to the Stearns."

These facts speak for themselves. We ask any intending purchaser to take one of the Stearns wheels to any first-class mechanic and have him take it apart and compare it with the corresponding features of the Tribune wheel. We know that an honest opinion would be that the Tribune is by far the better wheel and hence make the challenge.

We have some Tribune Tandems on the way here direct from the factory. The reason we did not get them on the Australia was because they were not finished. Everybody remembers Punch's advice to people about to get married, which was "Don't." We give the same advice to those about to purchase a Stearns tandem or single wheel. Call and examine the Tribunes; they are far superior in every respect and won't eat up your wages in repairs.

We have ten boys' and girls' wheels for Christmas, and we intend to sell every one of them.
